General Fee Information and Conditions of Enrolment

The tuition fee provides for a basic range of academic services available at PLC Pathways including some incidental expenses such as local sporting and academic excursions, some music costs and student accident insurance. Additional expenses associated with private music tuition, optional sporting programs and non-term time activities will be charged to the student's account.

The tuition fee also provides for the residential or boarding services. This includes complete house care and accommodation, school health centre facilities, study and meal services. Laundry services associated with linen and towels are included.

The tuition fee does not cover incidental expenses such as taxis, dry cleaning, weekend activities or medical expenses. It is expected that boarders will have access to sufficient funds to pay for these items. The enrolment fee is non-refundable and contributes directly towards the provision of school teaching resources and improvements.

Full tuition fees may be paid before the student commences in the PLC Pathways program or 50% may be paid prior to commencement with the remaining 50% payable upon commencement in the program.
