PLC Armidale principal Nicola Taylor was elated when she announced the school's exceptional HSC results for this year.

PLC Armidale is ranked 81st in NSW, and is the only school in New England to rank in the Top 100 schools in the state.

"These results reflect the collaborative effort between staff and students, and demonstrates what can be achieved in a smaller personalised learning environment, where girls are known for their strengths and challenges," Mrs Taylor said.

The principal and the school congratulated the ten girls who achieved ATARS over 90:

- Erin Chen (Pathways Graduate) 98.35
- Emma Pearce (Armidale) 96.80
